

IRENE EMMA KELLEY

Born January 20, 1903 . Commercial Course. School Play (4); Junior Reading (3); Essay at Graduation

You'd never suspect, judging from the serious mien of this young lady, that she is a practical joker of no small experience. This young lady can give you lessons in dressmaking and cooking with skill and thoroughness. That last word—thorough—is a good one for her—that's the way she does things. Irene is one of the best housekeepers in the school. If she chose to speak, which she doesn't often, we think she could tell of more good times than any other one of us.
